

Timber recycles carbon

Need solutions to timber questions?

Then simply subscribe to Timber Queensland's technical services...

In today's rapidly changing building regulatory environment, it is essential to keep up to date or at least have access to the latest information when required. Timber Queensland's Building Professionals Technical Subscription Service is open to tradespeople and building construction professionals, providing knowledge and insights on timber specific information developed in a wide range of state and national committees and technical review panels. A technical subscription is also an opportunity to have input as issues develop, and guidelines, standards and regulations are prepared.

Benefits and Services

- Monthly Technical Update e-Bulletin featuring up-to-date information on technical changes, timber products and industry.
- Access to "Ask an Expert" technical email advice.
- Access to a members and subscribers-only website providing 24 hour access to technical information, industry comment and training.
- FREE Technical Data Sheets (31) covering a broad range of technical specification and use issues.
- Discounted rates for technical publications in our online shop.
- Participation in regional meetings and industry discussion forums.
- Online workplace health and safety advice and templates.
- Discounted rates for membership of Chamber of Commerce & Industry Queensland which offers workplace/industrial relations advice.

Who would benefit from Timber Queensland's Building Professionals Technical Subscription Service?

Contractors ● Builders ● Specifiers ● Engineers ● Building Designers ●
Certifiers ● Architects

To join

Simply complete the application form and send it to Timber Queensland with your subscription fee (pro rata) or for more information call us on (07) 3254 1989.

Timber Queensland, 500 Brunswick St, Fortitude Valley QLD 4006 PO Box 2014 Fortitude Valley BC QLD 4006

www.timberqueensland.com.au